District 6 high schools host Expo for eighth-graders

Eighth-grade students from Evans, Greeley and surrounding areas are invited to attend a District 6 High School Expo on Tuesday, Nov. 29, 6–7:30 p.m. at UNC's University Center to learn more about the classes, programs and activities offered at Greeley Central, Greeley West and Northridge high schools, as well as ENG@GE Online Academy.

“As our middle schoolers and their parents begin planning for high school, we want to help them learn about all that our high schools have to offer,” said Susan Walker, a program coordinator with District 6. “In previous years, our individual high schools have held separate info nights, but this year they decided to team up and offer one big night where students and parents could get lots of information all in one place.”

From 6-7:30 p.m., in the Long's Peak and Mt. Evans ballrooms of the UNC University Center, students and parents will be able to visit with principals and teachers from each of the schools. At 6:15 p.m. and again at 6:50 p.m. in the Pike's Peak Ballroom, informational sessions will be held to explain the Career Pathways and Magnet programs that are offered to District 6 high school students, including:

- Academy of Engineering
- Accounting Pathway
- Agriculture Pathway
- Business Information Technology Pathway
- Culinary Arts Pathway
- Health Science Pathway
- Horticulture Pathway
- International Baccalaureate Programme
- Law Enforcement Pathway
- Marketing Pathway
- Performing & Visual Arts Pathway
- Science/Math Pathway
- Teacher Education Pathway
- Technology Pathway
